My guidance for attempting to break the world record for the Furthest golf ball blow

I felt dizzy from the pressure I exerted on my lungs when blowing this golf ball. It was important that I blew it as far as my lungs would enable me to. But that was hard work. The other thing I remember most was the lengths I went to in order to find a suitable venue. Maybe such places abound elsewhere, but not in my world. I wonder how you'd fare if you tried.

To start, gear up for a few rules, such as:

- use the specified golf ball.
- do this on a flat surface.
- have witnesses present.

As we all know, it is said that one doesn't know something until they've tried it. Can you claim to know about blowing golf balls? Sure, anyone can blow a ball several centimetres. But the real challenge might be blowing it metres and metres. Best of luck!
